

WHERE WILL HONOLULUANS
SPEND THE SUMMER?

The calamity that has befallen San Francisco has caused many changes in the plans of Honolulu people with reference to their summer vacations, and many who have been in the habit of spending two or three months in the East metropolis during the heated term are casting about for new places of retreat. Refugees from San Francisco will doubtless crowd all adjacent towns, even down to Los Angeles, for many months to come, and hotel and boarding house rates will be correspondingly high. In such circumstances Honolulu people are fortunate in having a splendid mountain resort close at hand, where a whole month can be spent, including traveling expenses from Honolulu and return, for less than the cost of a round trip steamer ticket to the Coast. In fact, Messrs. Trent & Co. are offering purchasers of $40 volcano tickets, a whole week's extra board at the popular Volcano House for only one additional five dollar gold piece. This is an expensive kind of advertising, but it will probably result in keeping the Volcano House full to the doors all summer.

The chances are that you affect some particular brand of liquor—say whisky. You are certain to find the tippie of your choice in C. J. McCarthy's jobbing department. You will find that the price is right and what is even more important, that the right label is on the right bottle.

B. A. Levett, special assistant counsel for the Treasury Department, arrived in the Manchuria to attend the taking of testimony in the sake cases before Judge Dole here for use in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco. Thomas Fitch is here to watch the interests of the importers of the Japanese liquor in question, who are fighting the ruling of the collector of customs that it is a wine. If the article be judicially decided to be beer, the government will have to refund about a million dollars. Most of the wholesale liquor houses in Honolulu have an interest in the result.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Tax Appeal Court will begin its sessions on Monday.

Remember the special meeting of the College Club this evening at the residence of Dr. Alexander.

Willard E. Brown of Halstead & Co. brokers, returned in the Manchuria from San Francisco. He says Hawaiian securities are holding up well there.

Mr. H. Sollars, a graduate of the St. Louis, Mo., College of Pharmacy, came down from the Coast on the Manchuria to take a position with Benson, Smith & Co.

Dr. McDonald's report to the coroner's jury on the death of Edward Dunn gives the cause as asphyxiation. He found two large pieces of meat in the windpipe.

In the Manchuria's mail a great many letters sent to San Francisco since the disaster were returned to the senders, indicating that the mail service has been considerably disorganized.

Mrs. H. Alexander Isenberg and children, and her sister, Miss Duisenberg of San Francisco, departed on the Manchuria yesterday for Japan where they will remain for about six months.

Mrs. McGilvray and Miss Marion McGilvray of Los Angeles, who have been extensively entertained during their two visits in Honolulu, are booked to return to the Coast in the Coptic sailing today.

MRS. HIGHTON RETURNS.

Mrs. Henry E. Highton arrived by the Manchuria. Her health is not good, as she has undergone much fatigue and nervous strain and was laid up in New York by a severe illness for several weeks. Her mother, Mrs. Martha J. Scooffy, aged about eighty years, whose residence at No. 1541 Taylor street, San Francisco, was burned, died from the result of the shock and from exposure. Her last days were spent in a hospital, where she received every loving attention that could be procured. She was a pioneer of 1849 and was a leading member of the Auxiliary Society of California Pioneers. She was widely known and deeply respected. Her visit to Honolulu two or three years ago is fresh in the memory of many of our citizens. Her husband, P. M. Scooffy, was the first wholesale auctioneer in San Francisco. Besides Mrs. Highton, she left two daughters, Mrs. Edith Cook and Miss Ida M. Scooffy, one son, Leonidas J. Scooffy, several grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.
